About the Diamond Bourse of Canada:

The Diamond Bourse of Canada is a diamond and gemstone trading facility, and an industry association that provides a variety of unique industry-specific services.

Through its facility, services, and network, the Diamond Bourse of Canada supports and facilitates the trading of diamonds and gemstones within Canada, and provides the Canadian diamond industry with a distinct centre around which efficient and organised secondary diamond-market activities can form.

'The Bourse' is an exclusive institution, whose history, traditions and facilities make it unique in Canada. Members subscribe to – and are bound by – a strict code of ethics and best business practice.

In essence, the Diamond Bourse of Canada is a central commodity exchange facility and a network, which brings buyers and sellers together, and provides them with value-added services that enhances their competitive capabilities.
